Flaio Website

Hits: 740

Description: Flaio Website is a content management system that allows you to edit your website from the internet. This makes it much easier for information technologists or other members of your website's team to edit the website. Flaio Website incorporates a complex system of permissions that allow you to regulate what certain users can do in the admin control panel so that you know what is going on.

Flaio Website also has many features that allow the root administrator to view what has been going on in their website. Features such as action logging and session logging allow the root admin to check out what other people have changed on the website and when the other administrators have been logged in.

FW has module support so that you can easily have someone code a custom script and integrate it into your website. FW also has a revolutionary templates/pages integration that allows you to have templates inside of pages and pages inside of templates.
