MovieCMS Video Entertainment Community Site Script (like YouTube!)

Hits: 6,304

Description: Now presenting MovieCMS! The latest and greatest video site script, now available for less than all of our competitors! Only offered with free installation, MovieCMS is an extremely advanced script which utilizes various advanced tools and modules on linux servers. All purchases come with free installation, including the installation of all needed codecs and modules! Create your own video site and launch in a market which is ready to boom. Many video sites which started out small have become overrun with visitors and uploaders, and this script will allow you to experience that same rush of users. Hundreds of ways to sort the videos on your site, Template based (for easy design manipulation), User account system in place, Sharing details for different services are built-in, Comment system embedded into every video page, Flagging system embedded into every video page, Built-in friends system, Automated screenshots during video upload, and much much more! Check out the demo!

Even if the price of the script is paid, the license is not sent. The answer doesn't come back no matter how I send mail.

Looks like an exact copy of another script, Aug 27th, 2006

This site looks very questionable. The demo (which does not fully work) looks exactly like Alstrasoft's Video Share Enterprise, the company is in Bangladesh, and emails sent never get answered.
