Members Only PHP & MySQL Login Registration Script

Hits: 4,604

Description: This website add-on module is good for any website requiring the lock down or login of members only sections of a website. The site visitor registers at your site and is then allowed access to the pages you set for members only. The information collected from the site visitor is: first name, last name, email address and password. The system will also stamp the time and date the person registers, which is only viewable in the administration panel. The script uses a template for members pages which allows the insertion of a header for the page, a footer for the page and the body of the page ... making it extremely easy to blend into any website. This script uses a back-end MySQL database to store the registrant's user names and passwords. The script also provides a secured "back-end" administration panel for viewing records.
