Installing according to the readme gives an error about folder permissions. There are no details on how to set permissions on the folders until AFTER you have them properly set - pretty useless IMO. Also cannot get the CC payment system to work. Tried to register on forums to discuss the issue - never received activation email. Only other option is to call in and pay for support or pay to have them host it-either way you have to pay them money to get it to work despite the "free" tag.
