Same as Clip Share, many bugs and errors, Dec 8th, 2006

Reviewed By: kondah

Okay, I purchased this script as well as Clip Share, but both of them are 99% the same. The complete source code, directory structure, etc are exactly the same. Just like Clip Share, this one is full of bugs, not just small ones, but extremely bad bugs (see my clip share review). This version (alstrasoft) even came with out of the box mysql errors, I first needed to email them to get a modified functions.php before the script even worked a little.

Avoid Alstrasoft! No Customer Support, Jul 13th, 2007

Reviewed By: diggz

If you are planning to purchase a script from Alstrasoft, google "Alstrasoft Nightmare" or "Alstrasoft Security" ... you will see they are notorious for taking your money and offering no customer support afterwards.

Check the reviews for their "Efriends" script here to see more customer feedback.

p.s. Amazing to see Alstrasoft's response above, claiming the account "kondah" was not a customer of theirs. Are Hotscript.com accounts used to ID Alstrasoft customers nowadays? Nice.

Good product and support but more features can be added, Aug 17th, 2007

The initial setup of the video share has been pretty smooth. As I had knowledge in php, the setup and config was done fairly quickly. Pre-sales was quick and their support response time was also within a reasonable timeframe when I asked about a few customization issues.

On a side note: I did enquire about the above issues, and since the product wasn't directly involved in video share and the reply from the AltraSoft that those issues were fixed.

4/5 coz they could still add more features
