Description: jsFileMaker is a Javascript external file creator that will take an HTML page or plain text page and create a .js file. External files can be created from a whole page, a selected portion or the body of a page. The calling html page is also created.

The .js file can be 'squeezed' by taking out extraneous space so reducing download times. The external file can use either 'write' or 'writeln'. jsFilemaker can also 'squeeze' an HTML file.
