poorly coded and poor customer support, Sep 20th, 2007

Reviewed By: jbiberdorf

Avoid this shopping cart software! The code is written very poorly. If you want to change anything, be prepared to search through 20 different files to find the right code. Throughout the code you will see many 'to do' comments and even comments saying how bad the code is. Their customer service is just as bad. They will try to charge $1000+ for simple modifications. Plus their response time is slow and they are quite incompetent. Do not buy this software!!

Over priced, Dec 3rd, 2007

This product is way over priced for the fact you can get free scripts and free shopping carts that are better, and have some type of continuing support. With this over priced cart you get no support what so ever after a short period unless of course you're will to pay heavily for it..This is clearly not a good value. Add to that the fact that you have to rely this company to integrate the cart to your site well, it is another security problem.

language library a nice addition, Feb 5th, 2008

this cart has a language library built into it, so it was very easy for me to change how things were said in the cart. when my client asked me to change how the billing info phrase during checkout was worded, i didnt have to go into the code and do it, i just had to edit it in the admin panel and it worked. its a really cool thing, and i will continue to evaluate digishoppe because of this feature.
