Description: AjaxGrid is a web-based ajax enabled reporting and application development tool that enables high functional web applications to be created in minutes without the need for complex development tools. AjaxGrid is highly scalable and can cope with 100,000's of rows and hundreds of users. With AjaxGrid you can search, sort, edit, upload, print, copy, export, nest, link and much more with just a few lines of code. AjaxGrid includes it's own GUI Designer application that allows applications to be generated and deployed against any table, view or stored procedure in your database with the need to write any code.
