SiteUpTime.com Standards Compliant Statistics Page

Hits: 1,599

Description: SiteUpTime.com provides web site monitoring as a free or paid service to other web sites. SiteUpTime.com will monitor your site letting you know when it is down and also allows you to display these statistics to your visitors with your own stats page.

Unfortunately, this statistics page is not in a valid XHTML format which discourages those of us who develop web pages by these standards from linking to it. Not to mention the page is also remotely hosted on another site which looks unprofessional to the viewer.

With this program you will be able to grab the information from this statistics page and display it in a valid format as well as a page on your own web server. Preserving your web site validation and professional appearance.
