Simply A Fantastic Script, Dec 28th, 2006

I have been testing the latest beta of ADP over the past week or so and have found it to be nothing short of fantastic.

It took a little while to find my feet with it so to speak, but this was only due to the fact hat I have been using another search engine script (that indexes at a snails pace) for so long now.

Indexing is easy & top notch and very quick compared to the great Sphider, in fact the whole script is in my opinion much much better. If you need a search engine, get it now!!!!

Great Piece of Software, Feb 20th, 2007

Astanda Directory Project definitely has to be the best directory software, it not only includes the directory portion, but and admin section and spidering for the built in search engine. It is well written, fast, and new features are added quickly. The support for this software on the forums is beyond exceptional. With a great programmer and a growing support community this software can surpass any similar scripts in a heart beat.
