Very bad software and even worse support, Nov 13th, 2007

Reviewed By: spinacia

OpenCrypt and LockedArea, by iOnix, have major functional and operational deficiencies and can't be trusted. OpenCrypt is elaborate and feature-rich, but not well tested or debugged. I paid $349. Locked Area is underdeveloped. iOnix does not list any phone numbers and declines to be contacted via phone. Support they provide is timely, but unfriendly and often partial. iOnix does not take full ownership in resolving their problems. I am in the process of seeking legal action against them.
