Video Uploads and Downloads

Hits: 5,027

Description: Users can upload and download videos from the site without registering. Uses php, mysql, ajax, smarty, and javascript for the features. The site is running on a windows environment. No registration is required to upload videos. There is a 200 mb limit on the file size and most every video file type is accepted/supported. If a registered user uploads a video they are able to earn money by placing google adsense advertisements on their video viewing page. The site theme is similar to youtube but the design is a new concept and one that users enjoy.

I was looking for a script to make a small site to upload videos. I found this and got all excited... just to find out is just another site trying to attract people. There is no script whatsoever. Why the hell is there a "Download" link if it's not a script? I thought the name of this site was "hotScripts" not "hotadsforsites". Terrible.
