Hits: 1,949

Description: GPix is a FREE yet powerful word link script, based on the popular marketing concept of link advertising. This system requires only a web server running PHP/MySQL, and the ability to chmod files and folders. The GPix skins also work with GLink!

Create an administrative blog and maintain it using a built-in WYSIWYG editor.

Upload background images for your word grid, giving your word link grid a more colorful, stylish look.

Set several important characteristics for your words, like image, URL, and color/style/style. Track the number of clicks for any word easily. Create email templates using built-in parameters. Available for multi-lingual use.

Create and manage infinitely many grids. Set active / busy / inactive status, adjust grid width, and set the maximum number of words per grid.

Advanced, web-based installation script gets you up and running in no time at all (requires a web server running PHP and MySQL).
