Reviews for A Website Login Password Protection

Poor support, Nov 5th, 2007

I paid for a license through PayPal. I was suspicious of this seller 'cause Whois info on the domain is privacy-protected. And you won't find its address or phone # at the website. I asked questions 2 days before by email with no reply. But I took chances anyway. After paying, I received an e-mail message with an account and a URL. If I go there, I get an error. If I go there with another browser and enter account info, I get an error. If I contact the seller, there is no response. Scam

Vendor does not deliver software!, Dec 18th, 2007

I should have read the other review before buying. Do not purchase this software from this vendor. You will get ripped off. I have read the instructions on the website and I have sent emails to this company and they do not reply. After purchase you get an email and password that does not work. They say that after purchase send them an email reply with you transaction and they will verify your purchase quickly. Not a chance.
