Wlpp Real Estate Script

Hits: 5,295

Description: New version launched! Open Source Code Available! Wlpp Real Estate Script provides you with all the features you will need to set up your own real estate website, using your own domain name. Just about anyone can add listings, upload images, and create their own customized pages. The script is perfect for independent real estate agents, landlords, property managers, brokers, property rental companies, and property developers!

The script is so easy to use that just about anyone can add listings, upload images, and create their own customized pages. You can easily log into the Admin Panel and create listings by entering the property's information right into a group of fields. (e.g. square feet, number of rooms, bathrooms, etc). Once you click "save", the listings are instantly updated on the website.
