I like it!, Aug 20th, 2007

This is exactly the type of project tool I've been looking for! I have tried so many of the other so called "free" online tools. This is the only one to give me unlimited projects and users. The one site design project I used it with went smoothly, my customer (or client as CollaTRAK calls it) told me he felt involved with the project during the design phase. He also paid me using paypal, which is built into the site. I highly recommend this site for designers like myself. Good job.
