QuickInsert - the free and easy way to protect and sell your content

Hits: 613

Description: QuickInsert plugs into your existing website to protect and sell content - no programming necessary! Simply copy your content, documents, or images into QuickInsert and paste the provided line of Javascript code onto your site. Users can register, pay, or surf content on your pages without visiting QuickInsert.com! That's it; forget headaches and focus on building your user community! If you are looking for website login software to build a user community, QuickInsert is right for you . All of your protected content and documents (white papers, documentation, and/or manuals) are served dynamically into your website through one line of Javascript, compatible with just about every browser. You don't have to worry about a thing! Once a visitor registers on your website, they are either prompted for payment via Google Checkout/Paypal or are activated instantly. They can then login on your site, and your site's protected content becomes available!
