I really love the new look of ClipShare script, it is very web 2.0 style, all the images are carefully created, the content fonts fit the entire aspect. Everything has been changed to offer the best quality on the market.

I'm very happy with the script and with the support team. They provided good work. Thank you.

I first bought something from a competitor, because it looked better. But I trashed that one very soon. Then I bought ClipShare and YES. That is what you want for your youtube clone. I am running my ClipShare video site for over 10 months now and I am impressed by its stability and user friendliness for my users.
