Support Customers from any PC

Hits: 501

Description: With Remote Window you can provide tech support for your clients or your staff with no set up costs and a low monthly fee per computer. You can log in from any PC with internet access anytime and see the screen, run applications, diagnose problems, transfer files, even restart their computer - all without anyone having to be on the other end. Go to our site and try the free trial for yourself and then email us for special pricing for tech support people.
