Hits: 613

Description: Have you ever looked at your forum signature and thought to yourself, 'What I really need is a signature message that changes randomly'? If so, RSMScript is what you need!

RSMScript, currently at version 1.21, allows you to set up a list of quotes which will be randomly picked from each time your signature is shown. RSMScript allows you to configure the image however you like, giving you complete control over the colours and everything else.
