Online Survey Form Administration

Hits: 4,845

Description: The author notes, "In most web_based database application, webmasters are allowed to administrate their web sites throuth internet. In that way webmaster can maintain database or modify html pages anywhere. Many company's internet or intranet site has both back end (for adminstration) and front end (for site visitors). This artical is just quick example to display survey form on front end and update survey questions on back end." Full source code available for download.
